

Clinical Assistant Professor of Human Resource Development and Technology Management, Academic Professional Track, Non-Tenure

Texas A&M University's Department of Educational Administration and Human Resource Development, in the College of Education and Human Development, seeks a Clinical Assistant Professor of Technology Management. This is a professional position and the individual appointed will assume the duties of a Clinical Assistant Professor at a Research-Extensive, Tier I university.

Qualifications: Applicants for this position should have earned a doctorate in Technology Management, Education Technology, Human Resource Development or a related field. Applicants should have prior teaching experience at the university level in the field of Technology Management.

Responsibilities: Academic Professional Faculty members are essential to accomplishing the departmental vision of serving a new undergraduate student population in Human Resource Development and Technology Management. This is a nine-month permanent appointment with responsibilities for four undergraduate courses per semester in the area of human resource development and Technology Management. Teaching assignments will consist of a variety of subjects in the technology management program, both at the undergraduate and graduate level. Subject matter ranges from operating systems to networking. Faculty are expected to have current professional knowledge of the technology management and related fields. Courses include, but are not limited to Technology Management, TCMG 271 Technology and End-User Support, TCMG 303 Unix System Administration Practices, TCMG 316 Database Systems Administration and Application, TCMG 308 Cybersecurity and Digital Ethics, TCGM 412 Contemporary Issues in Technology Management, and TCMG 476 Managing Technical Networks. Each semester there may be 4 course preparations. Preference will be given to individuals with strong Technology Management background and the requisite Cisco Certified Network Associate (CCNA) certifications to lead students in earning CCNA 1 certification.

Appointment: This is a nine month appointment. The anticipated start date is September 2018. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications.

Applicants should address their qualifications directly in a letter to the Search Committee explaining how their experiences relate to the curriculum needs identified. In addition, the application packet should include a current curriculum vita, three references and certified academic transcripts. The search committee will begin the review of applications November 6, 2017. The search will remain open until the position is filled. Letters of application should be addressed to Dr. Michael Beyerlein, Chair of the Search Committee and send to: Marie Shelfer, Department of Educational Administration and Human Resource Development, 511 Harrington Tower, 4226 TAMU, Texas A&M University, College Station, TX 77843-4226. (979) 862-4347 (FAX). Completed applications and curriculum vitas may be submitted electronically via PDF to: shelfer@tamu.edu.

Texas A&M University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, veteran's status or any other legally protected status of employment.