

Assistant Professor of K-12 Educational Administration, Tenure-Track

Texas A&M University's Department of Educational Administration and Human Resource Development, in the College of Education and Human Development, seeks an Assistant Professor, Tenure-Track of K-12 Educational Administration. The Department of Education Administration and Human Resource Development and the College of Education and Human Development are especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through their research, teaching, and service.

Qualifications: Applicants for this position should have an earned doctorate in K-12 Educational Administration, Education Leadership and Policy, or a related field that qualifies the individual to instruct doctoral-level courses related to PK-16 education legal issues. The applicant must also demonstrate potential for publishing in top-tier academic journals and external funding activity consistent with a tenure-earning faculty member at a research extensive university.

Responsibilities: This is a tenure-track professor appointment with responsibilities for two courses per semester in the program area of K-12 Educational Administration. Courses include, but are not limited to education law, policy, politics, and leadership. In addition to research and teaching responsibilities, individuals in these positions are required to provide service to the program, department, college, university, and to their professional organizations.

Appointment: This is a nine-month appointment. The anticipated start date is September 2019. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications.

Application and Review:

- Items required for submission: (a) letter of application addressing qualifications; (b) current curriculum vita; (c) a list of four references (to include their postal address, phone number and email address); (d) statement describing their teaching experiences; (e) statement describing research. Applicants may also submit up to five additional documents (e.g., publications, prior course evaluation data, syllabi etc).

Review of completed applications will begin November 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. You can submit your applications by clicking the link below:

<https://eahr.tamu.edu/about/employment/>

If you have any questions about the search, please contact Search Committee Co-Chairs, Dr. Jean Madsen (jamadsen@tamu.edu) or Dr. Daniel Bowen (dhbowen@tamu.edu).

The Texas A&M System is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability
Employer committed to diversity Committed to Diversity.