Position Title
Tenured/Tenure-Track: Open Rank - TCMG

Location
College Station, TX

Position Type
Tenure-Track or Tenure Review Upon Hire (either)

Position URL
apply.interfolio.com/90689

Position Description
Texas A&M University's Department of Educational Administration and Human Resource Development, in the College of Education and Human Development, invites applications for a full-time Associate/Full Professor, Tenured/Tenure-Track position, nine-month academic appointment with anticipated start date of September 1, 2022. The Department of Educational Administration and Human Resource Development and the College of Education and Human Development are especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through their teaching, research and service.

Responsibilities:
40% Teaching: The successful candidate will be expected to teach two undergraduate courses per semester, develop, implement and review effective teaching/learning processes, incorporating appropriate methodology, technology and other tools; deliver instruction both online and on any of the university campuses. Instructional duties may include teaching during the day, in the evening, or on Saturday. Work collaboratively with faculty and staff to implement departmental programs; remain current in discipline and update course content when appropriate to reflect current levels of student knowledge in the discipline; develop a system for ongoing evaluation of both teaching and learning, including expectations of student competency and student learning outcomes;

40% Research: Demonstrated publishing in top-tier academic journals and external funding activity consistent with associate professor in a Research Intensive Tier-1 university.

20% Service: Maintain appropriate schedule for student access and inquiry; work in partnership with academic advisors on student advising, attend scheduled orientation, chair dissertations to completion and participate in institutional service roles such as but not limited to, college committees, advisory committees, student/faculty recruitment and mentoring of new and part-time faculty.
Knowledge, Skills and Abilities:

Demonstrated ability in the discipline and show clear promise of teaching excellence as evidenced in evaluation by peers, department head, and college dean. Documented yearly progress of professional achievement in teaching, research, and service. Strong interpersonal skills and the ability to work collaboratively with a team of professionals.

Qualifications

Applicants for this position should have an earned doctorate in Informational Systems, Instructional Technology, Technology Management or a related field.

Application Instructions

Review of nominations and application will begin October 1, 2021 and continues until the position is filled. Applications should be submitted online via Interfolio (https://apply.interfolio.com/90689) and include the following required documents (pdf file/s): (a) letter of application summarizing the applicant's qualifications; (b) current curriculum vita; (c) a teaching statement; (d) a research statement; (e) a diversity statement; and (f) names and complete contact information for three professional references). Applicants may also submit up to five additional documents (e.g., publications, prior course evaluation data, syllabi, etc.).

If you have any questions about the search, please contact Dr. Jia Wang at jiawang@tamu.edu.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.