- Teaching graduate-level courses (eight per academic year) in PK-12 Educational Leadership; details on courses are available on the program's website: <https://eahr.tamu.edu/academics/>.
- Providing service through participation in governance and service of the program, department, school, and university
- Contributing to the development of the PK-12 educational leadership profession through participation in local, state, national, and/or international professional associations
- Engaging in K-12 educational leadership professional development, keeping current with the field, and broadening knowledge and expertise

Knowledge, Skills and Abilities:

- Social science research methodological expertise in qualitative, quantitative, and/or mixed research methods
- Ability to advise and mentor Ed.D. students' applied research efforts, including the composition and presentation of such efforts
- Demonstrated ability or evidence for promise in teaching excellence through various instructional formats (in-person, online, and hybrid instruction)
- Strong interpersonal skills and the ability to work collaboratively with a team of professionals.

Appointment: This is a full-time, nine-month appointment with an anticipated start date of August 1, 2024. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications.

Required Qualifications:

- An earned doctorate in PK-12 Educational Leadership or a closely related field. Those that have not yet defended must be conferred by May 31, 2024.
- Evidence of demonstrated effective teaching and advising of graduate-level students in the field of PK-12 Educational Leadership.

Preference given to applicants who also possess:

- A robust peer-reviewed academic journal and/or practitioner-oriented publication record
- Leadership experiences with relevant professional associations, such as serving on state and national K-12 educational leadership boards
- Superintendent and principal certification in the State of Texas.
- Significant experience having served as a K-12 school superintendent and/or principal

Application Instructions: Applicants should submit the following through the Interfolio system: <http://apply.interfolio.com/131236>

- a cover letter addressing qualifications for the position.
- a current curriculum vita.
- a personal statement to include philosophy and plans for teaching, research and service, as applicable.
- 3 names of references who could possibly provide letters of recommendation upon request.

In order to receive full consideration for a position, applications must be completed and submitted by October 1, 2023. Application reviews will commence thereafter and will continue until the positions are filled.
